Taken one at a time, the events unfolding across our world seem unconnected, insane or random. However, there is an overarching pattern to everything you're witnessing and experiencing. That pattern exists because there aim.

If I tell you that aim right up front, you will discard it as unbelievable. The only way to come to understand the purpose of this pattern is to arrive at the inescapable conclusion step by step. I can help you walk the path of discovery, but I cannot flip that switch in your own mind that transforms you from a “sheeple” into an aware, conscious being with a cosmic picture of what’s really happening to the human race and our planet.

If you read any of this and find it too uncomfortable, you can always tell yourself it’s nothing but science fiction. Via The Matrix:

Don't worry about it. As soon as you step outside that door, you'll start feeling better. You'll remember you don't believe in any of this fate crap. You're in control of your own life, remember? Here, take a cookie. I promise, by the time you're done eating it, you'll feel right as rain.

Let’s begin by considering the global convergence of the following 12 events and trends:

1) The desperate effort by globalists to end all national sovereignty

Erase all borders and flood the world’s wealthy nations with Third World migrants and violent criminals who will can’t help but vote for authoritarian tyranny. (Which, not coincidentally, is exactly what they are fleeing in their home countries.)

2) The aggressive ramping up of efforts to disarm all law-abiding citizens

While granting legal immunity to violent illegals. Why would a rational society want to take guns away from those who use guns to prevent violence, all while granting legal immunity to the criminal class that uses guns to commit violence?

3) The “blowout” economics of endless money creation

Now combined with the sudden squashing of debt leverage by raising interest rates among central banks. The combined effort to first create easy money, then to slam the brakes and collapse that easy money, is not an accident. It has a specific purpose.

4) The terraforming of planet Earth with “stratospheric aerosol injections”

That mainstream scientists now admit is a form of geoengineering designed to alter the chemistry of the atmosphere and reduce the intensity of solar radiation reaching the surface of the Earth. Importantly, this action would also collapse global food production and sharply reduce the level of oxygen in the atmosphere, making the planet increasingly inhospitable to humans.

and colonizing Mars

Presumably because they believe Earth will not survive as a habitable planet for much longer.

6) The rapid acceleration of cultural attacks on fertility

Masculinity and male biology, almost as if everyone has been ordered to declare sperm to be evil and children to be toxic to the world. Canada's government, for example, has recently declared that giving birth to a living human child is a threat to the sustainability of the planet. The LGBT agenda to erase the concept of male biology and rewrite biological science is also part of this effort.

7) The global installation of 5G cell towers

That have the capability to track and irradiate specific human targets while subjecting entire cities of human populations to high-energy radiation that causes brain tumors.

8) The complete transformation of the food supply

From something that once nourished humankind to a vector for the mass poisoning of humankind. Similarly, the corruption of language (words, "facts," reason, etc.) has also transformed words from something that used to inform the mind into something that now poisons the mind.

9) The utter collapse of logic, reason and rationality

To the point where nearly half the population of America's youth now believe that men can get pregnant and that chromosomes have nothing at all to do with gender. The very ability of mankind to reasonis under constant attack and now all but obliterated.

10) The increasing celebration of Satan and death

Including Planned Parenthood abortion centers and Satan-worshipping religious movements. Even the Vatican is now lead by an agent of Satan, and numerous churches have been transformed into anti-Christian, pro-globalism obedience training centers.

11) The increasing concentration of all power and influence into the hands of the few

FRom search engines and online censorship to media publishers and government bureaucrats. Nearly every single thing the people of the world now see, think, believe or consume is controlled by a shockingly small number of companies and individuals who rule through deception and predatory monopolistic practices.

12) The sense of panic and urgency among globalists to defeat nationalism some ominous, looming deadline.

With the above observations in mind, what pattern explains them all?

Ask yourself what agenda would pursue the pattern of events unfolding now across our globe

Inescapably, a core feature of everything happening today is an anti-human agenda to exterminate humankind. Every major trend taking place today is preparing humankind for a mass extermination event, making sure humans cannot fight back, think for themselves or even reproduce. With the food supply poisoned, male biology attacked and nullified, and even the power to think systematically compromised, the human race has been turned into a slave farm of obedient sheeple, ready to be harvested or eliminated for reasons that are further explored below.

Underscoring the truth about this globalist agenda, the NYT published an editorial a few days ago that argued the extinction of humankind would be a good thing because it would stop so-called “global warming” (another incredible hoax perpetrated by the media). The article, entitled, “Would Human Extinction Be a Tragedy?”, lays the groundwork for justifying the mass extinction of humankind in the name of environmentalism. The article quite literally says, “If this were all to the story there would be no tragedy. The elimination of the human species would be a good thing, full stop.”

Ask yourself this question: Who or what would pursue an anti-human agenda for our planet? Your answer is found in that question, because the answer is most definitely nothuman.

No human being would deliberately poison planet Earth, compromise the human race and turn free thinking individuals into a slave race of obedient sheeple. Even insane, authoritarian tyrants still need large populations of humans to order around and exploit for their own gain. Even despots, in other words, still need humanity to survive. Yet whatever is targeting human civilization today has no interest in the sustaining of the human species. This is not about ruling humans but exterminating them.

I'll repeat that because it's important you consider the ramifications of what you might be coming to realize. Whatever entity is targeting human civilization has no interest in the survival of the human species. They are, in essence, at war with humanity, and they have profoundly influenced cultural and political events in order to turn humanity against itself.

If they place no value on the survival of the human species, you might ask what else they see as having value on planet Earth that's worth fighting to own.

You've already found your answer: Planet Earth.

Why Earth has value to powerful, evil entities, even if it means that enemies of humanity exterminate the planet's dominant life form

From a cosmic point of view, Earth has tremendous value. It is a water planet that sits at just the right distance from the sun to support carbon-based life. It has a rare orbiting moon, which provides an astonishingly important influence on the diversity and sustainability of life across the planet (ocean tides are far more important than you might imagine).

Earth is rich in minerals that are difficult to acquire from other sources, and minerals have universal cosmic value to any civilization because they are the materials out of which all things are made. Rare Earth Metals, as the namesake implies, are elements found across the planet which have especially high value in physics and chemistry due to their atomic properties. These properties are universal and are recognized everywhere in the universe, for every intelligent civilization, simply due to the laws of physics. Neodymium atoms are neodymium atoms everywhere, even in other galaxies, and these exotic elements are necessary components of advanced technologies.

Learn about the uses of dysprosium, erbium, ytterbium, promethium and other rare elements, and you will begin to understand the universality of atomic elements and why they matter to all advanced civilizations in the cosmos.

Finally, Earth is a treasure trove of genetics, diverse life forms, the natural synthesis of incredibly useful molecules throughout the natural world, and home to multiple sentient species including elephants and whales, both of which currently demonstrate vastly superior intellect compared to humans. Earth's sun is also relatively stable and has a few more billion years of life left in it, making Earth a reliably warm planet that supports liquid water and strong diversity of life.

technological sophistication that has enabled humankind to threaten the future of all life on planet Earth. Humans are now systematically poisoning the world's oceans, soils (Biosludged.com), rivers, forests and air. This, from the point of view of non-Earth observers, means they believe humanity is a threat to Earth and its natural resources.

Observers conclude that humans have proven themselves to be a threat to planet Earth

Even more alarmingly, humans have constructed thousands of poorly designed nuclear power plants that run on uranium and plutonium fuel rods which are kept in check by a delicate array of electronics that can all be wiped out by space weather phenomena such as a solar flare. In a split second, every control board that prevents every nuclear power plant from going into a meltdown would be fried, unleashing a wave of global nuclear meltdowns on almost every continent, contaminating the surface of the planet for centuries (if not millennia). The half-life of cesium-137 is 29 years, and it takes ten half-lives — almost three centuries — for it to be considered sufficiently gone from the environment. Half-lives of other radioisotopes of uranium and plutonium are far longer.

At the same time the human race constructed a global network of death-dealing nuclear power plants, it also began the mass global spraying of food crops with toxic neurological poisons known as “pesticides.” These neurological poisons now inundate not only the food supply but also the biosludge that's spread on crop lands. From there, it washes into rivers, streams and oceans, causing the mass contamination of the world with neurological destroyers that are already causing a devastating wave of dementia and Alzheimer's among humans. Other agricultural chemicals like Atrazine cause mass disruptions of the hormone balance of non-human life forms, including amphibians.

There are over a hundred “dead zones” in the world's oceans thanks to human activity. Almost all of this is due to the use of agricultural chemicals. At the same time, humanity is utterly obliterating honey bee pollinators through the global deployment of neurotoxic chemicals. Pollinators are the pillar for not just the global food supply but also the survival and adaptation of pollen-bearing plants. The human-led assault on pollinators is an attack on the very sustainability of life on Earth.

To top it off, humans have also built and installed tens of thousands of nuclear weapons, any one of which could cause global environmental devastation if detonated by accident (or on purpose). Any nuclear exchange between warring nations would devastate not just most human life on the planet, but would also compromise animals, plants and microbes for millennia to come.

Humans now have the capability to destroy a world whose natural wealth vastly outweighs the perceived “value” of the human species as a whole, from the point of view of non-human observers. They may place some token value on the human species, but they undoubtedly place a much larger value on all the properties and assets that exist across planet Earth... a planet that humans are now threatening to destroy through incompetence, war or suicidal neglect.

see as the greatest threat to the planet

Here's the inescapable conclusion you've probably arrived at yourself: Somewhere, a decision has already been made to eliminate humankind in order to quite literally save the planet. Humans have proven themselves to be foolish, even treacherous stewards, the thinking goes, of a cosmic jewel that can no longer be allowed to be threatened at the hands of a dangerous infant human civilization that even non-humans fully realize is run by lunatics and fools with names like "Macron" and "Gore" and "Bush."

The planet is too important, in other words, to allow humans to destroy it. Thus, there is a belief among observers that humans must be eliminated for the cosmic good. This is not my position, by the way. This is the inescapable thinking of others who are observing humankind and witnessing what humans have done to the planet so far.

Everything you are now seeing unfold across the planet is either:

- 1) Events that further demonstrate how humans are destroying their own world and must be eliminated.
- 2) Part of a complex, global plan to strip all power from humanity for the purpose of achieving efficient extermination.

Global leaders believe they will be spared if they obediently turn over the human race for systematic extermination. This is why so many globalists now openly discuss "depopulation" as a way to save the planet. They aren't lying. This is exactly what they've been told must happen. The NYT is now openly arguing for the planned extermination of humanity, remember. This plan is no longer a fringe theory; it's now a mainstream view from liberals and establishment scientists.

The destruction of national sovereignty, the disarmament of citizens and the attacks on logic and reason — the foundations of liberty — are all intended to place humanity under the control of a global authority so that it can achieve efficient extermination of the human race. This global authority — the United Nations — does not represent the interests of humankind. It asserts power and influence to depopulate the planet and exterminate humans. This is precisely why, for example, UN-approved vaccines administered to young women in Kenya have been scientifically verified to contain spontaneous abortion chemicals that cause long-term infertility.

To repeat, the goal of the United Nations has, for many years now, been to enslave the humanity race to a global authoritarian tyranny that will allow for the efficient extermination of the human race, thereby "saving" the planet.

Earth's world leaders, in other words, are now serving the interests of parties who are not human. In an upcoming article, I will discuss the three possible interface vectors by which non-human entities are interacting with — and influencing — human world leaders. Those three vectors are: 1) Demonic possession, 2) AI infiltration, 3) Human impersonation.

which the UN will assert global authority to oversee humankind's efficient extermination

The ramping up of global conflicts — Ukraine, Russia, China, Taiwan, Brazil, Syria, Israel, France, etc., is all about creating global chaos and war. This, combined with a planned global economic “reset,” will have the world's citizens begging for a new world order to “save them” from destitution and conflict.

The New World Order (NWO), of course, has been aggressively pushed since the 1980s, when even Bush Senior openly spoke about bringing Earth under the control of the NWO. Today's extreme attacks on President Trump are being waged precisely because nationalists like Trump delay the NWO enslavement plan, interfering with the globalist agenda to completely enslave (and exterminate) humankind.

Most of the people waging that war on Trump, of course, have no idea they are working toward an anti-human agenda. Vaccine propagandists are told they're “saving lives,” and left-wing journalists are told they're “resisting fascism.” In reality, they're all unknowingly working for an anti-human agenda that seeks the total destruction of the human race, but they have no knowledge of their role in achieving that outcome.

Even anti-gun activists like David Hogg have no real idea that the disarmament of humankind is a necessary precursor to the planned, efficient extermination of humans. Clueless anti-gun propagandists like Hogg think they're saving lives, when in reality they are prepping humanity for mass genocide on a cosmic scale. Even the citizens of Venezuela who gave up their guns to support “peace” have come to realize that the horrific government tyranny which now exists in Venezuela would never have been possible if the citizens had maintained possession of their firearms. They gave up their gun rights, then their government became the enemy. And now they have no means of defeating that tyranny and restoring the rule of law. Thus, they starve to death and flee their homes as corruption, disease, violence and lawlessness takes over.

Venezuela is the model for the United States of America if the American people give up their guns, by the way. Disarmament is the first step to authoritarian control, after which governments always become weaponized against the people.

Off-world technology a test for humanity... but we failed the test

Beginning in the 1940s, technology was transferred to humankind as a test to see how it might be put to use. Would humankind be a redeemable species with the wisdom to protect its own planet?

The answer, of course, is no. Human governments exploited the technology to develop weapons systems, hiding key technology from the world that could have set humanity free and unleashed an era of prosperity, health and abundance. Small, mobile fusion energy systems, for example, could decentralize power and bring incredible abundance to developing nations. But the greed-driven governments of the world had no interest in uplifting mankind; they merely wanted tactical advantages over other nations of the world. So they developed weapons technology in secret and denied the people access to the knowledge they acquired.

everyone, oil would become worthless, and those who control oil would see their economic and political power vanish virtually overnight. Abundance is the enemy of global control, while scarcity is its ally. Thus, all technologies which could have greatly enhanced the quality of life for humankind were hoarded, controlled and kept from the people.

This small-minded greed and secrecy clearly demonstrated the failure of the human species and very likely led humanity to be flagged for extermination. It shows non-human observers that humans have not achieved the level of maturity necessary to handle advanced technologies. Technology without wisdom is suicide, and Earth's humans have become a global suicide cult of factions that care nothing about destroying the natural world as long as they profit from the collapse (Monsanto, Bayer, Big Pharma, General Electric, etc).

Humans were also tested in Biblical times, as the travels of Moses recorded

If you're looking for more evidence of off-world influence into the rise of humankind, consider the Biblical account of Moses.

Thousands of years ago, humans were blessed with language and a written alphabet, but humankind now uses the gift of language to deceive rather than inform. Humans were given a code of conduct for sustainability, recorded in the Bible and the Ten Commandments. Yet today, the human race rejects any standards of ethics, morality or sensible behavior.

The Biblical figure of Moses, by the way, could easily be interpreted as having been in contact with a non-human entity that even the Bible describes as communicating with Moses by speaking into his head. Some have called this presence a "technological God," and most of the miracles described in Exodus are achievable through advanced weather control technology which early humans perceived as divine miracles. Importantly, when Moses was escaping the Egyptians, his protector — "God" — exterminated the Egyptians that were in pursuit. This intervention that saw the extermination of a specific group of people seems to underscore the idea that Moses wasn't talking to the real God. Instead, it could be argued that he was being directed by an off-world entity capable of carrying out mass exterminations of humans when it achieves their desired goal of shaping the future of humankind.

Consider this text from the Bible and ask yourself whether these events sound like they are directed by the divine God or, instead, by an off-world technological operator that targeted specific humans for extermination in order to carry out a specific geopolitical goal:

From Exodus 14:21

Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord drove the sea back by a strong east wind all night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. And the people of Israel went into the midst of the sea on dry ground, the waters being a wall to them on their right hand and on their left. The Egyptians pursued, and went in after them into the midst of the sea, all Pharaoh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen. And in the discomfited the host of the Egyptians, clogging[a] their chariot wheels so that they drove heavily; and the Egyptians said, "Let us flee from before Israel; for the Lord fights for them against the Egyptians."

Then the Lord said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea, that the water may come back upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen." So Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea returned to its wonted flow when the morning appeared; and the Egyptians fled into it, and the Lord routed[b] the Egyptians in the midst of the sea. The waters returned and covered the chariots and the horsemen and all the host[c] of Pharaoh that had followed them into the sea; not so much as one of them remained.

... Thus the Lord saved Israel that day from the hand of the Egyptians; and Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the seashore. And Israel saw the great work which the Lord did against the Egyptians, and the people feared the Lord; and they believed in the Lord and in his servant Moses.

Note carefully that the entity speaking to Moses may not have been the actual God for the simple reason that this entity chose sides and committed mass murder of one side (the Egyptians) in order to save Moses and his followers. This action was geopolitical in nature, and the entity speaking to Moses had a geopolitical intention. This "God" wasn't operating out of universal love, he was fulfilling a specific, mundane agenda of protecting one group of people while killing an opposing group. It wouldn't be hard to argue that this voice speaking to Moses was an impersonator of God who used advanced technology to communicate with Moses and perform "miracles" in order to achieve a geopolitical goal. (The real God does not intervene to mass murder specific groups of humans in order to alter history.)

Part of the goal of shaping early Man was obviously to impart a code of ethics and transfer basic knowledge of food, agriculture and morality to the human race. This was all part of an experiment to see what humanity would do with that knowledge over the next few thousand years... to determine whether humanity could be "uplifted" and made into a civilized world. (See books by Steve Quayle for more details on how advanced off-world civilizations influenced early human civilization. Here's a place to start: Genesis Builders Prehistoric Ancient Civilizations.)

The results we see today speak for themselves. Humanity has failed. Now, humanity has been flagged for extermination. The "gods" have given up on the human race and decided humans must be exterminated in order to protect the planet's natural resources.

Humans have become masters of murder; but failures at LIFE

Aided by the discovery or transfer of advanced technology, governments of the Earth mastered the art of mass extermination of their intended geopolitical targets. Right now, there are weapons in orbit around the planet that, if activated, could unleash EMP attacks, strike land-based targets from orbit, target and destroy ICBMs (Star Wars tech), and see through the oceans to spot nuclear submarines. Even without such advanced technology, human governments have murdered over 262 million people in just the last century and a half. It's called "democide," and it means "death by government." It is the No. 1 source of death on the planet, far outweighing deaths from cancer, guns, automobile accidents, suicide, gang violence or any other cause.

to use technology for the betterment of all conscious beings on any given planet. While early humans were gifted with the blessing of seeds, for example, modern humans use GMO technology to transform seeds into “terminator” suicide seeds so that evil corporations can assert global control over the food supply and the sustainability of food crops. These are not merely acts of greed, they are violations of cosmic law.

Earth has been an experiment; a test of the mettle of Man. And we failed the test miserably. Now, the galactic salvage crew is hard at work, going full “Soylent Green” on humanity to brush away the remnants of human failure and protect whatever is left of the planet we thought we inherited. The global elite are now actively working against the interest of humankind to accomplish this extermination goal, even as they’ve been told they will be spared from the global cataclysm that will be unleashed at the appropriate time.

We are long past the point of redemption. Actions have now moved into the “enslave and exterminate” phase for humankind. This is exactly why you are seeing the total censorship of all independent content on the ‘net, by the way. Because keeping the extermination of humankind under wraps is part of the strategy to achieve efficient extermination. Independent voices that describe what’s actually happening must be heavily censored if not utterly destroyed. Secrecy is critical to the successful completion of this plan.

How death will likely come for the human race

The planned extermination of the human race will likely be carried out through multiple vectors, some of which have already begun:

- 1) A global collapse of the food supply, followed by mass starvation and disease.
- 2) A global economic collapse that also leads to destitution and disease.
- 3) The mass chemical alteration of human fertility through exposure to hormone-disrupting chemicals in the food supply.
- 4) The mass poisoning of humans through toxic food herbicides, pesticides, medicines and vaccines.
- 5) The coordinated dumbing-down of the population through multi-vectored exposure to 5G cell towers, brain damaging aspartame chemicals, vaccine adjuvants that cause mini-lobotomies, and the continued mass fluoridation of public water supplies.
- 6) Planned mass poisoning of food crops through the use of applied “biosludge” (biosolids) which concentrate toxic chemicals, viral strains and deadly superbugs, then dump them on food crop soils all across America. See the shocking film “Biosludged” at Biosludged.com.

In addition to these five vectors, we will also likely see the release of a genetically engineered bioweapon or a swarming nanotechnology “grey goo” that selectively targets humans. No human will be spared for the simple decrepit building and schedule it for demolition.

Note that a bioweapon bypasses any ability of the human race to defend itself with firearms or military weapons. The extermination of humankind won't be carried out with science fiction alien motherships a la War of the Worlds. Most people will never even have a clue what is happening. The deaths will be silent, efficient and seemingly taking place without apparent cause. CDC "experts" — who are anti-human fraud to begin with — will claim to be "baffled." There will be no cure, although vaccine companies will fabricate whatever science they need to fake in order to rack up billions in government grants in a desperate search for a fictional cure.

Even rising up now and defeating the evil human institutions of dangerous government, war industries, pesticide death chemicals and GMO scientists will likely earn no quarter for the human species. We've crossed the tipping point and proven that humans are destroyers, not protectors of life. And I haven't even begun to get into the global mass torture of conscious animals for medical experiments, food flesh factories, the systematic sexual abuse of children by global leaders and organ harvesting medical experiments. The cosmic cost of such atrocious actions carried out by the human race is incalculable, and the human race cannot be forgiven for its treason against life and consciousness. (Just the mass murder of human babies via Planned Parenthood is a demonic, anti-human action that is unforgivable, yet this is openly promoted by liberals in the name of "progressivism.")

In fact, the NYT op-ed piece linked above actually mentions this very fact, pointing to the extreme cruelty that humans are inflicting on conscious beings:

Human beings are destroying large parts of the inhabitable earth and causing unimaginable suffering to many of the animals that inhabit it... [F]actory farming fosters the creation of millions upon millions of animals for whom it offers nothing but suffering and misery before slaughtering them in often barbaric ways.

The author isn't wrong on that point, by the way. The human species has proven itself to be devastating to all forms of life other than itself. From a cosmic point of view, humans are destroyers of worlds, and we've proven it by destroying our own world first. Now that we are on the cusp of reaching out to other worlds, it is inevitable that we will destroy those, too. This is why observers believe humankind now poses a threat to the existence of life in the cosmos and must be exterminated.

In summary, Earth is now undergoing the beginning stages of a cosmic ethnic cleansing operation. Humankind has failed the cosmic IQ test and will be eliminated in order to protect the asset of Earth, including all its other sentient life forms which may be given their own chance to "own" the planet over the next few million years.

Most of those working to help exterminate the human race have no idea they are part of a suicide operation

Everything that you are seeing unfold today which seems to make no sense is actually part of this larger agenda. Importantly, the people carrying this out have no idea what they're part of. The environmental scientists calling for "global dimming," for example, merely think they are working to halt global warming. What they don't know is that the entire global warming narrative was created and marketed precisely to get human beings to alter precisely the right conditions into which a bioengineered virus can be released for maximum extermination efficiency.

Similarly, vaccine pushers are brainwashed into believing they are “saving lives” of children, even as they are injecting the human population with hidden cancer viruses and infertility chemicals that help collapse human reproduction.

Humanity has chosen the path of destruction. That’s why I’ve been publicly calling the human race a “suicide cult.” I’ve known all this for quite some time, but only now have I decided to share more publicly.

Almost everything you are told by the lying corporate media is an engineered fabrication. Nearly everything that’s reported on science, medicine, economics, history and politics is rooted in sheer deception. The point is to distract and entertain simple-minded humans while the entire race is being led to slaughter. When the day of reckoning arrives, there will be no aliens in the sky and no UFO landings. The CDC will explain there’s a “mystery disease” wiping out humans with stunning efficiency. The military industry complex will claim it’s a bioengineered weapon from a rogue terrorist nation, while demanding more funding to fight it. The science lunatics will call for massive global funding for emergency vaccines, and gullible humans will line up to be injected with a hoax medicine that does nothing other than earn billions for the vaccine company that faked all the science to win government contracts.

In the end, you will simply be disassembled at the molecular level, either by a virus or a swarm of nanobots. There will be no debate, no forgiveness, no second chances and no political correctness. There will only be cause and effect. Like all other humans, you are part of a race that is now perceived by non-human observers to be a threat to the cosmic order... a race that cannot be trusted with technology or even valuable resources like liquid water. That race must be exterminated, the thinking goes, for the cosmic “greater good.”

Ultimately, your body’s molecules and minerals will be recycled into the Earth, your cities will be overgrown by nature, and another sentient species will one day discover the evidence of an “ancient civilization” that once dominated the planet, then disappeared. And they will wonder, “What happened to that civilization? What caused it to disappear.”

Now you know. Because you are a witness to what may be its final chapter.

Enjoy your limited time here, for you may be among the very last of your kind — a race that has been determined to be a cosmic failure of such magnitude that it can no longer be allowed to exist.

Watch the movie Prometheus for a few more hints about what may be already under way:

The last chance: How humanity might be able to save itself

Can humanity save itself from being wiped out in an act of cosmic genocide? Possibly, but the chances seem slim.

In order to save itself, humanity must do two things:

1) Defeat the globalists who now control all information, speech, thoughts, money, "news," "facts," medicine, technology, education and science. These globalists must not merely be stripped of power; they must be eliminated from the future of human civilization and never allowed to rise to power again.

2) Radically transform humanity into something it currently is not: A race of civilized, rational, compassionate and informed beings who hold Life to be sacred and can serve as ethical stewards of planetary resources.

Even if the globalists are somehow defeated, transforming humanity into a race of civilized beings seems impossible. Look around you at the world today... do you see rational, compassionate, civilized humans working toward a higher truth and a greater good? Not hardly. The humans in charge are the most vicious, destructive and dishonest individuals imaginable. They are child-molesting monsters and deceptive demons. Human abortions are celebrated as "women's rights." Satanic temples are being constructed at State Capitol buildings. Children are being taught that men have periods and chromosomes don't exist. Science has been twisted into a destructive institution of outright fraud. Children are lined up, practically at gunpoint, to be injected with toxic vaccines that are engineered to cause infertility and neurological damage. Brain-damaging fluoride is deliberately dripped into the public water supply, and the entire agricultural system for food production is saturated with brain-damaging pesticides, herbicides and plasticizer chemicals.

What we are seeing today is a display of the human race for what it actually is: An infantile, dangerous race of technologically-capable destroyers who worship death and suffering rather than life and joy. Human civilization has become an affront to the cosmic principles of sustainable life, and transforming humanity into something radically different from that seems to be an impossible task.

life, because the engineered mass extermination of the human race most likely cannot be stopped.

Watch for these 13 signs... here's what to look for

Watch for the signs that the extermination is under way. Look for all these and more:

- 1) Editorials that call for the extermination of humankind (as we recently saw in the NYT).
- 2) The rise of mysterious diseases that cannot be explained by modern science. (Also already under way.)
- 3) Planned global economic collapse and the destruction of functioning society.
- 4) Global-scale false flag events such as EMP weapons detonated over continents in order to collapse tech-dependent civilization.
- 5) Increased celebration of death (abortions) and Satanism.
- 6) Desperate new attempts to disarm the population so that the people are defenseless against what's coming.
- 7) Aggressive restrictions on free speech from anyone who doesn't promote the establishment lies.
- 8) Unexplained atmospheric events such as strange radar phenomena or "global dimming" — now being carried out by establishment scientists who claim to be "save the world from global warming."
- 9) An increase in the number of videos that show globalist individuals appearing to display non-human behavior, or who appear to be infested with demonic influences.
- 10) A heavy push for mass vaccinations without consent, even as the vaccines are deliberately laced with depopulation chemicals that promote infertility and spontaneous abortions.
- 11) New orbital weapons systems from the world's military giants, allowing attacks on humanity from orbit.
- 12) Increasingly erratic behavior from humans as their brains are assaulted by chemicals, 5G wireless, pharmaceuticals and environmental toxins.
- 13) An accelerated rollout of 5G wireless towers in order to expose human brains to intense, cancer-causing electromagnetic radiation that alters neurology and makes people feel afraid all the time.

As you see these signs unfold, you will know what's really happening.

Humanity may be doomed, but you don't have to die as a slave. Empower yourself with knowledge right now, and you can save your soul even if humanity is lost. Hint: Your soul isn't human. Hopefully you've figured that out by now. You are more than your biology, and biological extermination cannot destroy your soul. There is existence after biological life.

Amen! The maniacal goal is to END HUMANITY WITHOUT SHOTS BEING FIRED. We must STOP PLAYING NICE WITH EVIL. We must MAKE EVIL FEAR GOOD! Procrastination is COWARDICE. Defy OR Die! Never quite of give up. Be OFFENSIVE not DEFENSIVE.

I totally agree with everything you've written here, Mike. It does seem incomplete though. You lump all of humanity together and blame them equally for this present state of affairs. In reality, maybe about 10,000 individuals (probably less) deliberately engineered the current state that afflicts all the planet. It started with even fewer, a few families that were contaminated by nonhumans, and through inbreeding, Lucefarian worship, and guidance from nonhuman entities, they were allowed to control and destroy this world. The majority of Earth's population simply wants the basic necessities of life, the ability to support a family, meaningful work, peace, and love in their lives. The engineers, - think bankers and the Bilderberg group, - created fiat money, all the fake wars, the fake medical industry, the fake food industry, the toxic chemical industry, the dumbed down education system, the poisoned geoengineered skies, and, basically, the entire destruction of life in this world. I do not hold all of humanity complicit in this diabolical scheme. Even now, those who attempt to reveal the truth are methodically eliminated, murdered. It started long ago, their plan to destroy was implemented on an innocent and trusting population. TV was created to tel-a-vision, brainwash the people to obey, to consume. Fluoride was added to water, and now even other products, to not only interfere with the brain's functions, but also to block our connection to our soul. Yes, many are now waking up to the truth. As more truth is being revealed, the pushback is being ramped up via censorship and more destruction. It does seem to be too little, too late. I agree, it will be a miracle should our species survive.
